

MICHELLE EASLEY, ED.S., PMP, MBA

CHIEF EMPOWERMENT OFFICER

Meet Michelle

Michelle is an author, leader, speaker, consultant and CEO of Positive Push Press. As an African American female, Michelle has lived, authentic experiences with microaggressions, oppression, racism and sexism that are real. She has taken these first-hand, unpleasant encounters and used them to propel her to not just join the existing narratives about the problems and challenges women, African Americans, and other marginalized communities face but actually create books, webinars, trainings and narratives that are a part of solutions. Michelle sought to share with the world the unique value that diversity brings to schools, organizations, and everywhere. In addition to publishing books, Michelle's company engages in developing, facilitating, and leading sessions for multinational corporations and organizations. Her sessions open dialogue and present real, practical advice about how to address topics such as racism, combatting microaggressions and building libraries that reflect the beautiful, diverse student bodies in the schools they serve.

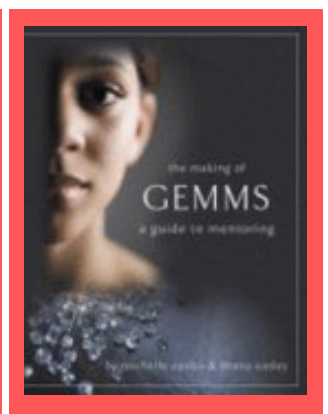

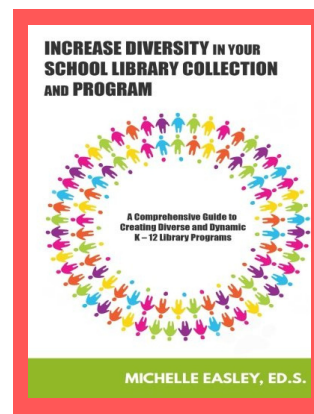

Positive Push Press publishes titles that support and grow inclusive, diverse environments. The company's mission is to empower people through words. Positive Push Press seeks to educate, inform, inspire and encourage all people.

Michelle is a native Atlantan and the daughter of a father who participated in the Atlanta Civil Rights Movement.
